A CONTINVATION
OF THE WEEKELY
NEWES.

From Vienna the 7 of August.

Vpon the tiding which the Post of Brussels brought here of the Treatie which is now in France apppointed, there were here diuers speeches, rumours, and conjectures spread abroad of the designes of the King of France; and the order which was alreadie giuen before to some Colonels to march towards Alsatia, was also againe renewed by the Imperiall Councell. And the Colonell Schauwenberg who lay with his Regiment at Eger vpon the Frontiers of Bohemia, marcht presently with it towards Alsatia, and there were also yet two other Regiments, and some horse appointed to follow him with all speed they could make.

The Duke of Bauaria hauing conferred at Norenberg, with the Electors of Mentz and Saxony, they sent the Emperour word of the resolution by them taken; namely, that they desired that a meeting might be appointed, at which the Electors might onely appear for to treat about some particular points concerning themselves, as to prouide that the Emperour might not any more hereafter dispose of the Estates and Lands of any Elector, without the consent of the vwhole Colledge: And to consult also, and to conclude, who shall haue right to succeede the Duke of Bavaria after his decease in the Electorate, intending to exclude the Prince Palatine and his issue for ever.

The Generall meeting which was appointed in Moravia is now ended, and the States of the Land haue agreed to pay within the space of sixe moneths 250000 Florins (each of them is worth three Shillings Sterling) vpon condition that they of the Countrie shall haue an absolute pardon, and bee discharged of the Souldiers vwhich are in it.

Although the Basha of Buda hath againe made an inuasion vpon our frontiers, there are neuerthelesse yet many that thinke the Great Seigneur will breake the Peace betwixt the Emperour and him.

The Cossacks haue not as yet receiued the money which is promised vnto them for a part of their pay, and are therefore continuing their excesses and infidelities.

The money is not yet ready which the Archduke Charles is to haue to travell withall.

It is bounden to be paid off From January 1619 to March 1620 against April

From Vienna August 14.

It continueth still, that the Turkes hauing made themselues very strong about Offen, inuaded Lowenz, and did there great hurt both by fire and sword. There is now great doubt made of the Peace betwixt The Emperor and the Great Seigneur: for Bethlem Gabor sent hither an Ambassador with a Letter written in the name of the Great Seigneur to him (Bethlem Gabor) by which he desired to know whether, if occasion should be offered, hee would take part with him, or the Emperor. Whereupon Bethlem Gabor the Prince of Transilmania, desirereth to know of the Emperor how and in what manner he may assure his owne Estate, and in what fashion he will protect him, what ayd, and how soone he will bee ready to send it vnto him: and protested moreouer, that in case of deniall of such ayd as is required, the Emperor should haue no reason to blame him, if to preserue his lands and subiects he turned to the other side.

The Tartars haue done great hurt in Polen, and defeated many Polonians: and the King of Polen hath sent for the Cossackes which are in these lands, but they will not depart before they be payd. Wherby it appeareth, that it is not true that (as some reported) the Polonians should haue defeated the Tartars which made the late inuasion in Polonia.

From Vienna Aug. 14.

The Elector of Bauaria hauing made at Nurenberg his oath (as an Elector) before the Elector of Menz, who who is Chancelor of the Empire, the Land-graue of Darmstads was presently sent to the Elector of Brandenberg, for to learne his mind concerning the resolutions that haue beeне taken at Schleusingen, which are thought to agree with them of the Elector of Saxony. And it is now almost generally beleueed that the endeuors which Monsieur Marecot hath vsed in Germany, for the re-establishing of seueral Princes of Germany, are not likely to take any good effect.

It is here also even now rumored, that the Regiment of the Colonell Schwanenbach is to bee staid at the instance of the Archduke Leopoldus, who standis at this time in greater feare of the oppression of the imperiall Souldiers, then of the threatnings of the French. He resigned lately his Bishopricke of Pafaw in the fauor of his Brother the Archduke Charles, who hath received the Deeds of it: and it is held for certaine, that he himselfe is to marry with the widow of the late Duke of Urbis.

The dismissing of the Cossacks is not so much deferred for want of money, as by reason of the imminent troubles in the Empire, and the other neighbouring lands. And the Turks even themselves haue made lately an iuasion as farre as Lownetz. And although Bethlem Gabor protesteth that hee hath had no hand in the late stirrings of the Turkes, hauing but few dayes agoe sent an Ambassador to such effect to the Emperor, who is yet here, and hath promised in his name, that he on his side will keepe the Treary of agreement, and desires that the Emperor wil shew him this favour, that he may send some persons into the Empire of vr

Empire to find out a Lady or Princesse fit to march with him. Neuerthelesse, seeing that here are some aduices, that he maketh great warlike preparations, and that it is to bee mistrusted, that vnder colour of friendship and confidence hee will worke new commotions, the Emperour to prevent mischiefe, hath sent a Letter to the Pope to desire him that by the interposition of his authority, hee will be pleased to effect so much, that the King of France, the Venetians, and the Duke of Savoy ioyne not their forces with them of the Protestants.

And it is here rumored, that if the Peace bee once broken with France, that 3000 or 10000 Cossacks shall bee sent thitherwards to waste and spoile the Country.

From Vienna, Aug 16.

The tiding is confirmed againe of the great warlike preparations which Bethlem Gabor hath made, having mustred after the generall Meeting of Hungary was ended 30000 men, many Turkes and Tartars being amongst them, and all furnished with their armes, and ready to march: He hath likewise 12 great pieces of brasse, besides great store of other ordnance, and (as they say) giues it out that the Emperour hath not kept the Agreement made betwixt them, and that he is therefore not bound to keepe it any longer. The Count of Thurne gathereth likewise a strong army, with intention to come into Silesia. But his Imperial Maiestic having gotten notice of his designe, hath provided all the frontier places and passages with all manners of necessaries to hinder his intended enterprise.

The Cossacks which were going homeward, are againe called backe by a Poste, and there are yet some 12000 other that were vpon the Frontiers of Silesia, lately taken in the Emperors seruice to resist Bethlem Gubor.

The Count of Monte-Negro hath likewise gotten order againe to goe againe with his Regiments into Hungary.

They goe here daily on with their pretended reformation, and many of the principall Citizens haue already gotten warning that they must within the space of three moneths either forfaine the City, or turne to the Catholike Romane Religion: wherevpon many of them haue sent already out of this City a great part of their best moueables. There are likewise many Schooles of the Protestants shut. And seeing that many Tourny-men haue lately vpon those proceedings left the Towne, the handi-crafts men of it stand in great need of them.

From Vienna, Augst 22.
The Regiments of the Dukes of Saxony and Holstein are to be mustred, and shall therupon receiue six moneths of their pay.

His Imperiall Maiesy hath lately giuen order for the leauyng of 4000 horse, which are to goe into Germany, for feare of Count Mansfield and his supporters. We haue here tidings that the Lord Curz the Emperors Ambassador is arrested by the Turkish

lich Basaw of Offen, who will keepe him vntill such time as the 36000 Rixdallers which the Imperials tooke a while agoe from the Turkes be restored back againe.

The Lord of Lambach writ with a Letter dated at Cremitz the 11 of this moneth: That three Basaws, & divers other of the chiefeest Turks were with great forces come ouer the Riuier of Donaw, and that they having done great hurt by robbing and pillaging, had moreover taken some twenty Villages which are lyng about the townes which stand on the Hills of Hungary, and desire likewise to haue all the other, and seeme to haue taken a resolution to surprise ~~Neasa~~ ^{Neasa} ~~Angul~~, from whence they haue already takyn greate store of beasts and cattell that was in the neighbouring Villages. And seeing that Bethlehem Gabor hath great correspondence with the Turkes, there are many townes which the Emperour kept vpon the Mountaines of Hungary, that yeelded to Bethlehem Gabor.

Wherupon the Lord of Lambach hath written to the Emperour, desyring him to send with all speed that be made, great aide both of men and al other manner of provision.

Although there was lately a resolution taken to dismiss the Cossackes vpon the receyving of the payement which is to be made vnto them, there is now given order that they shall not depart seeing the Emperour standeth now in need of their service.

The Count of ~~Neasa~~ ^{Neasa} Negre is within the space of few dayes to goe towards Olmuts in Moravia to gather there an Imperiall army to conduct the same into Hungary.

From Prague, August 10.

Within the space of this moneth was there a Burger of this City, who fired on purpose a house in the new City of Prague, and threw himselfe thereupon into the river of Moldaw. And happeing the 4 of this moneth that some Fisher-men tooke his body, the Magistrate caused it to be quartered by the hangman, who buried it afterwards.

This tenth day of August got the Burgers of the aforesmented new City, warning, or rather information that they had lost their right of Burgership, which they gat some sixt yeares agoe, seeing they would not embrace the Catholike Romane religion, and that the day of Saint James, which was prefixed unto them, was already past. Wherupon their traffikes and trades are forbidden to them all, and their shops shut vp, except five, the masters of them being turned to the Romane Religion.

In all these three Cities of Prague are the Burgers now daily urged by the Imperiall Commissioners to pay such monyckeare demanded for the generall pardon which the Emperour hath granted vnto them. And even within these two dayes, there were about some fifty persons brought as prisoners to the Townhouse, where they gaue to vnderstand, that they had no monies, nor could borrow any, and that they were willing therefore to yeld their houses and goods. But how they shall speed the time will shew.

To day there was giuen order, that both the pri-uate

and publike schooles of the Protestants should be pulled downe or rather shut vp, and even at the same time there were patents granted to cause the Protestants to depart.

It is here very confidently reported that the Church of S. Stephen which standeth in the new City shall be demolished, besides some 300 houses more to build a Castle there.

The Dutch Church of the Protestants in the small City shall be given to some Monkes called Carmelites amongst which Peter Dominicus who was at the battle before Prague shall be one. And there are shortly yet some patents to be dispersed to dismisse all such Protestant preachers as staryt yet in some other towns of Bohemia.

From Prague, Aug. 17.

The tyding continueth still of the flutting vp of the shps in the new City, and it is generally thought, that the like will likewise bee done in the two other cities of Prague.

The 13 of this Moneth were here in the City againe somethree houses fired with the losse of one woman besides great store of moveables.

From Prague, Aug. 19.

Few dayes past a Poste whom the Archduke Charles sent through this City to the Generall the Count of Monic-Merry, to give notice of the great danger that Silesia is in by reason of the imminent invasions of the Turkes and Tartars, and desired him therefore to come with all his forces in Silesia.

Bunes wouderstoed before hec had order of his Imperiall Majestie to goc towards Moravia, and Hungary. It is certaine that the Regiment of Lachiensteyn is there already arrived; and as it is rumoured the Forces which lay about Eger, are likewise to goc thitherwards.

The seventeenth of this moneth was here a Prouolt of a Regiment, hencht, by reason that he tooke with some horsemen forty thousand Florins which were sent to pay the Regiment of the Count Galalda: the horse escaped with the money, but hec was hencht in his rich apparell within this Citie.

Wee haue tidings out of Polonia that the Tatars haue beeene a hundred leagues farre in the same Land, whervnto they could never attaine before. Hec is was a Kingdome; that they did there great hurt, hauing taken great store of Cattle, thirry thousand horse, and aboue twentie thousand Christian soules, which perisshes they haue prelored to Beithlem Gabor.

We haure now againe that the last Order which the Count of Schwanenberg got, is called back againe, and that he wch all speed is to go yvth his Regiment to-wards Affaria.

They write out of Austria, that Beithlem Gabor hath summoned the fifti man in his Dominions to come in Armes.

There commeth tidings out of Silesia, that the Cossacks, which lay in Moravia, haue gathered themselves about Troppau and intrenct there all their forces, doing great hurt to the Country. And it is rumoured, that they are resolved to send the chiese transgressors amongst amongst themselves into Polonia. (seeing that they were the occasion of their banishment) vpon hope that they shall obtaine thereby a generall Pardon for the remainder. We understand also likewise that many hundred of them are already without Passport or leave gone homewards.

They write out of the upper Hungary, that seeing it hath not rained in Tartaria, within the space of two yeares, that there is great want and misery; and that therupon some 40000 men, women, and children, have ioyned themselves together, with a resolution to seek another land. And as they write thence, some of them haue tryed their fortune in Polonia, to the great damage of that Kingdome.

We haue here tidings out of Austria, that both many horse and foot come to Bethlem Gabor to serue him. Necethelless hee sheweth as yet no actions of hostilitie to the Emperor; and as some report he is to send to Venice both the forces which hee hath leauied in Polonia, and these which are come to him out of Germany. Our Generall the Marquis of Monte Negro is within the space of few dayes to goe towards Olmutz in Moravia, to forme and gather there an Imperiall Army, to supprese perhaps as well the insolencie of the Cossacks, as to preuent the iuision of the Turkes and Tatars: for it is rumoured that they haue cast an eye upon Newebensel, with an intention to surprise it. And haue already taken thence great store of beasts and cattell.

From Rome, the 20 of August.

Besides divers other cares which are here taken to defend this Citie from the Plague, there are some souldiers sent to the mouth of Tyber where this River runneth into the Sea, to stop all such ships as come out of Sicilia, seeing that there dye many of this infection, and especially at Taranto and Palermo. And they vwhich come thence say that there vwas lastly a great commotion at Palermo, vwhich hapned by reason that a Spaniard would not suffer a certaine Ladie to enter into the Lazaretto. Whereupon some Italians fell soule vwith the Spaniards: In which fray there were some seven of the Inhabitants and twelve of the Spaniards slaine, and many hurt, for the whole Citie was almost all in Armes, and if the Cardinall of Doria had not stayed this tumult by his presence, there would haue beeene done a great deale more mischiese. There are yet some 10000 persons more sick, and there dye almost a hundred persons every day.

The French Ambassador had on Thursday last audience by the Pope, and treated very long with him about the affaires of the Griffins, and Velzeline.

From Venice, the 26 of August.

Wee understand by Letters from Constantinople, that the Great Seigneur hath sent a great Armie towards Aleppe to recover Babylon againe, which the King of Persia, hath fortified (since he tooke it) and strengthened it both with men and munition.

They

They whilke wife thence, that the Sultan of Aff is gone with 30000 men towards Cavmania.

We haue here tyding from Alexandria, that the Pyrats haue taken foure French ships in the Port of the same City.

By seuerall Letters from Millan wee leare that there was come tyding with a Poste that came from Madril that the King of Spaine hath lately chosen 24 Captaines to leauie souldiers in seuerall parts of Spaine seeing that many forane Princes, and especially the King of France, make great leauies.

From Frankfort the 25 of Augest.

ON Friday Miceron the Colonell Cordenbach (who inwarke Arme of the General Thy) with his Regiment, and 3 Comites of Horse, the Riuere of Maine by the meane of a bridge which was layd betwixt Freiburg and Neckar.

And to day there are yet two other Regiments to passe the same, namely, one of horse vnder the Lord Wiersdorf, and the other of foot vnder the Colonel Smith. They are to march straight on towards the River of Neckar, and haue Commission to inquarte themselves in the Marquiseate of Durlach.

Some ill willers of Bethlem writ that the Turks haue begun the waire againe vpon the Emperour, and that they haue already made a great spoile, and done great hurt in Styria, which is one of the Patrimoniall lands of the House of Austria: and they report likewise, that Baldwin Gader will shortly begin with the Emper tor

tor on another side, but time will reveale the truthe and try the certaintie of their predictions. It is as yet not knowne when the Dyer or the Electorall meeting shall begin.

Wee haue here gotten aduise of the agreement made betwixt the Kings of Denmerke and Smeden.

Here is also muche talk of the leauyngs which are made both in France, and in the State of Venicy.

From Lisbon in Portingall, the 6 of August.

We haue here gotten certaine tyding by a Barque that came from Brasil of the taking of the Bay which the Hollanders tooke by maine force the 10 of May last past, with some 32 ships, out of which they handed some souldiers behinde a Mountaine, and were thereupon with the ships towards the towne, and got it very speedily. They made plentely thereupon a Proclamation that all the Indians might tarry in their Villages without any danger or molestation of them.
They went afterwardes by land to surprise yet another place, and it is thought that if they can get the same, then they will presently be master of all Brasil.

From Brasil, the 24 of August.

The last weeke were some Waggonnes with money sent both to the Marquis Spinola, and Count Henry Vanden-berg, besides two whole and fourre demi Canons. It is now generally thought that the Marquis Spinola will now be in earnest, and doe his best ende-

soon to make a great exploit for the preservation of his reputation, and this is therates believed, seeing that the Marquis Spinola made his Will before his departure and caused moreover his Picture to be drawn according to the life.

The plague beginneth to kindle at Antwerpe, and many Burgers of it retire therefore both to this, and other Townes.

They write from Madril that there was in the last moneth of July, some falling out betwixt his Excellency Mons. Lorenzo Neri, and the Ambassador of the Emperor or the Lord Francis Christopher Kenanbil, Count of Brankinborg, being both in the Antecameru or pruie Chamber of the King of Spaine, but the matter was presently taken up by the intermeddling of many Knights and Gentlemen that were there present, who made litle regard to Counte Kenanbil.

Even the same day was there a Frenchman of Madril in one of the Churches of Madril named Saint Philippe, who tooke at the time of the Elevation on the Sacrement out of the hands of the Priest and crumpling it in peeces threw it on the ground.

At the same instant was there likewise a Spaniard in the Church of Saint Barbers of the same towne, who tooke likewise the Host at the Elevation out of the hands of the Priest, but when he had kist it, he lay it againe vpon the Altar without doing an thing else with it. Then they were both presently taken by the Inquisition, which condemned afterwards the French man to be burned as was with great speed done, and som she spreded (was mad man) to falle dowm hec & c. Were in prison during all the dayes of his life. By reason of these strange accidents, were afterwards severall daies of fasting, and prayer kept in many Gloysters of Toledo.

From Amsterdam, the 25 of August. I arro

The English which came lately ouer are daylyn seuerall places armed, and when the new apparell shall benytade for the common soldiern, it will thought be that many Companies of them shall be sent towards Fries where the Count Henry of Nassau is alredy.

There were some few dayes agoe about 6000
Boers mustered in the vally, being armed with Callister, loppe, staves, and hatchets, to defend the river of Ijssel against the freiboorters which were used to come now and then ouer it. And it is certaine that about

From Cullen, the 23 of August.
The Marquis Spinola lyeth still with his Campe before Breda, and is there making many concers and trances.

We have here gotten tyding from Nijmegen that the Count Henry of the Berg, having besieged the 7th of this moneth the small towne of Gennep, beset it with the Regiment of Golzech Sonding: they of the Catholike very fforcely wpe the town, and behaued themselves very brauely, but ar at this tyme

Count Henry of Nassau is come to Nijmegen

We have here gotten certaine tyding, that the Marquis Spinola hath besieged Breda round about, so that nothing can any more be brought into the town;
as likewise how that Count Henry Wunderberg is to come with his Army to ayde Spinola, who hath now lately sent towards Liss for more Ordinance and war like prowsing which he hath there, but none will shew
the issue.

From Winox-bergen in Flandres, the 26th of September. unto you

On last Saturday when I was at Brussells, dined there the Prince of Palen, who was met without the towne by all the Lords and Gallants that were there at the same time, besides many Citizens that were in armes under their severall colours to conduct him to the Cis-tie, and to honour him the more, the Ordnance was also placed on the wals of the towne, and discharged saluacionall. Hoc hauis in his Company 300 beane Noblemen, Knights, and Gentlemen, many of them being Princes, Dukes, Countes, and Barons. Hec is lodged in the Palace of the Infanta, and lyeth in the same quartier in which the Archiduke Alberus himselfe lay when he was thine. Item this moneth ent to an There hath beane already great trauail, malice, and honour shewne unto him. Hec stayeth there but a while, seeing that as the rumor is spred alreadly hee is to passe towards Spaine to wexe the Infanta.

Breda is besieged round about that nothing can enter but by maine force, the Marquis Spinola intrencheth himselfe very strongly, and his Excellency the Prince of Orange was yet within these 8 dayes at the Haize, but had inreadiness 2000 VVsigns, and many boats, and it is since reported, that he is marche towards Gorcum with an Army of 20000 men. But what he intendeth to doe we cannot learne as yet.

On Wednesday last went at Brussells yet forme new Patentts or Comissions granted to leaue some 1000 men of which 1000 are to be Burgonians, and the rest Wallons and Flemmings, or other Low-County-men.

They of the Castle of Gorcum hold still out, and defend themselves very bravely and valiantly.

The last Letters which came out of Spaine, have againe confirmed the taking of the Bay called Thier Los Santes, which maketh the Hollanders to say that all the Saines are become Spanys or Frenchmen.

The

The King of Spaine (as they say here) hath armed at Lisbon some 25 Galcons, & other ships, with an intention to send them with some thousands of souldiers to recover the Bay againe. But the Hollanders will be ready for them, in sending another Fleet to succour the first. But there are many which hold that the King of Spaine shall hardly at this instant bee able to get either Mariners or souldiers enough to make such an enterprize.

Two men of Warre chased lately a Dunkerker and drane him vpon the sands by Blanckenberg not farre from Ostend, tooke seuen or eight of the men, and the rest lauied themselves a shoare, and fired the ship thereupon.
